The Smart Series is the smart choice because it will hold just about any live seafood you desire. It's the most popular and versatile of live-seafood display tanks. With the shellfish option you get a larger carbon filter, special holding trays and "tag holders." The separate Sump-Filter below allows the product to stay in the viewing tank while the biological filter media is maintained. This reduces stress to the animals and eliminates the need to do complete water changes just to clean the media. The 16 gauge stainless steel frame eliminates the propensity for broken plastic parts and makes for a more appealing appearance. All surfaces are covered with water resistant material to prevent rotting or deterioration.
